

Covid Warriors - The hero lies in you!

By - Mediawire

Created: Aug 31, 2020, 20:05 IST

f FACEBOOK

🐦 TWITTER

📌 PINTREST

Leading by example and inspiring thousands in their path, a few good Indian Samaritans are winning hearts with their efforts. Rising above the pandemic constraints and helping others in need, today the real-life Covid Warriors are playing a pivotal role. Put your hands together and open your hearts to the recipients of the Times Covid Warriors. They have been felicitated based on the research conducted by an independent research Agency, Market Xcel Data Matrix Pvt. Ltd. Read along to acknowledge the exemplary contribution by Times Covid Warriors and feel inspired...

Rohaan Bhojwani is a 17 yr old student of American school Bombay studying music and the violin for 10 years.

For the past year, he has been teaching a group of students at Laxminagar Public School (Akanksha Foundation) the violin, to provide opportunities and benefit in the ways that music training has helped him for which he fund raised Rs. 1 lakh to buy violins.

However, due to the lockdown he could not teach them anymore as schools shut down. He realised many of them come from families of daily wage workers and had no income. Hence, he raised money for their essential services, like food, water, and medicines.

School has begun virtually for these students however, most of them have no device or a device shared by the whole family. They have managed to source tablets at 10000Rs from Lenovo with enabled sims and internet. His goal was originally to provide these to 40 students but he has successfully managed to raise funds for 130 tablets for the Akanksha students.

Please do reach out to him if you would like to help as no amount is too small at rbtablets781@gmail.com